

Illinois Vietnamese Student Union

PRESS RELEASE

With summer ending and school starting, the Illinois Vietnamese Student Union (IVSU) would like to announce its new Executive Board for the term 2013-2014.

My-Phuong Ly, President

Graduated from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (UIUC) and currently working in the marketing industry, My-Phuong is the advisor for UVSA Midwest and part of the Alumni Mentorship Program committee for UNAVSA. She started community involvement in college and has been hooked to bettering the youth and community since.

My-Phuong's vision for this year is to have all of our affiliate schools to get to know each other really well and be able to co-host events. At the end of the year, she wants to be able to empower youth in our community - both on the high school and college levels. IVSU will accomplish this through full on support of our audiences and providing resources to those who need it.

Darian Phuoc Nguyen, Internal Vice President

Graduated from the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC), Phuoc is currently working with a nonprofit community organization. For this upcoming year, he looks forward to continuing to work closely with all of the VSAs and VASA in Illinois along with high-school students and the community. This year, he wants IVSU to continue to grow as an organization and to have an even bigger presence within the state of Illinois.

Joseph Dang, External Vice President

Graduated from the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC), Joseph is continuing his studies as a first year pharmacy student at UIC. As the VP external, he looks forward to serving as the liaison between the students and the community. He has some exciting new programs in the works this year that will help bring together student, young professionals, alumni, and community leaders. If you have seen the hit show "The Voice", get ready for our all-new mentorship program. He cannot wait to meet you all and don't hesitate to contact him if you want to chat!

Sarah Vuong, Treasurer

Currently working on her final semester at Roosevelt University, Sarah is doing a double major in Accounting and Management. When she is not thinking about money, Sarah usually does Taekwondo. As the treasurer she hopes to help IVSU build a solid financial foundation, so we can host more large scale events and in the future be able to offer scholarships to help develop emerging leaders.

Son Doan, Public Relation

Graduated from the Ohio State University, Son is a passionate college football fan. Go Buckeyes!! During his down time, Son likes to watch and play tennis with his fellow peers. For this year, he plans to further assist and outreach to IVSU's partners and umbrella organizations to help us create a stronger, more professional presence in the community.
